Last month, Live Well Crawford County announced they would be crowd funding the money needed to get the garden constructed. The organization was able to raise more than $9,000 for the garden, before the May 10th deadline. This just brings them even closer to getting the healthy food to the people of Arma.

“$9,000 is a lot of money and to do it in less than a month just show how many people care about this project,” says Matt O’Malley with Live Well Crawford County.

Live Well Crawford County would like to wait until they have the money, but they’re looking to start plotting out their garden however the rain hasn’t helped. Sometime this month they plan on planting with hopes it can be harvested by July.
